Camden County Launches New Website

Woodbine, Ga. (October 28, 2014) – On October 30, 2014 Camden County will go live with its new government website at www.camdencountyga.gov. The new site is a more open, user-friendly layout designed to provide easy access to the information residents and visitors need. Some of the features include:

- Citizen Request Tracker - A tool used to report concerns to the county. It can be used for reporting drainage problems, potholes, missed garbage collection, or other concerns. Citizens will now be able to track the progress of their report.
- Notify Me® - Citizens can subscribe to receive a variety of information about employment opportunities, bid requests, press releases, meeting minutes and schedules and a number of other topics.
- Board of Commissioners bio information
- County codes and ordinances
- Minutes of Board of Commissioners meeting
- Press Releases
- Social media links
- Emergency information
- Flood protection information

County Administrator Steve Howard said the website is another way to keep county citizens engaged with their local government. "A lot of thought went into the design of the new site. We want it to be aesthetically pleasing but easy to navigate. The website is a tremendous resource that will be a tremendous benefit to anyone looking learn about or interact with Camden County government." Civic Plus® designed and implemented the new site.
